

Language Identification Organizer

Listen closely and check off each sentence or partial sentence as you hear it.

- The north of Italy has more industry and produces more goods;
- It's here, close to the wheat fields, that the Barilla family built the largest pasta factory in the world.
- The way a company makes money is by making a lot of it quickly.
- if even a couple of them don't show up for work, it can shut down the entire plant
- And it turns out that's exactly the problem the Barilla plant in Foggia was having, a lot of people weren't showing up for work.
- Or we change our approach all together, or this place probably in the future will disappear.
- To him it doesn't make any sense that just being in the south would make you more of a slacker.
- So step number one, make the workers understand, hey, we see you, we notice.
- we know that we have to put some pressure on that other person, like to say, oh, you should come to work.
- He asked for a holiday, but the supervisor refused him because they needed him to work.
- They knew that the behavior of one of us could compromise the life of everyone.
- It's very rare in Italy to be fired.
- The absentee rate has dropped all the way from 10 percent to less than four percent.