

Language Identification Organizer

Listen closely and check off each sentence or partial sentence as you hear it.

- Hundreds of years ago, the people on the island came up with an unusual form of money: coins made of stone
- Scott Fitzpatrick has been to this little dot
- But hundreds of years ago, explorers from Yap found limestone caves on an island hundreds of miles away
- They needed something to store value
- something happened to their crop of food or they were running low on provisions
- Yeah, way bigger weighing and very ungainly to move
- They often talk about the stone themselves not changing hands at all
- It's just one day, everybody knows it belongs to me
- Doesn't that seem kind of amazing to you though
- I mean I guess there's like some digits in your bank account that are sort of in my bank account now